The dinners are held in Vienna to bring together people with diverse backgrounds and views, who are willing to step out of their comfort zone for the evening.

"Since the pandemic and with the current wars under way, I have lost friends because of divergent opinions," Cornelia Grotte told AFP after accepting the offer to meet complete strangers and socialise.

Attorney General Pam Bondi said on Sunday that authorities arrested 68 people overnight in Washington, D.C., amid a federal crackdown on crime in which President Trump has sent the National Guard to the nation's capital and federalized the police force.

"Over 300 arrests in D.C. — and counting: Just last night, our federal and DC law enforcement partners made 68 arrests and seized 15 illegal firearms," Bondi said in a post on the social platform X. "Homicide suspects, drug traffickers, and more are being charged. I'll continue to stand with you as we make DC safe again!"

Trump last week said he would take federal control of D.C.'s police department and deploy the National Guard to the city. The president's moves have drawn heavy blowback from Democrats and D.C. residents.

White House deputy chief of staff Stephen Miller, who also recently
